

End-to-end cloud solutions for the financial services sector

PRODUCTIVITY

Transform your business with modern cloud-based applications

In a distributed business environment, managing applications for a growing number of devices can seem like a never-ending challenge. Manual installations, regular updates, licensing arrangements and security considerations to name just a few.

Modern cloud-based applications eliminate this complexity by providing access to the world's most advanced business productivity tools, over the internet.

With Software-as-a-Service (SaaS), onboarding becomes far easier and teams can quickly connect for closer, more meaningful collaborations.

Service simplicity

For a simple monthly or annual subscription, your solutions are pre-configured and ready to go. There's no need to invest in licenses up front, and you always have the latest versions through upgrades that enhance functionality, availability and security.

Cloud-based applications are also more cost-effective, as you only pay for the actual number of users. The underlying infrastructure and middleware are dealt with by the application vendor.

Optional management

Through our partnership arrangements, TAS delivers a suite of world-class productivity and collaboration tools that can be supported by our team of experts.

Our experience can help you plan the best way for users to access their applications, integrate your solutions into your network, and increase performance using our optimisation tools. We'll also help you migrate users simply and quickly, and we'll add a layer of advanced security through configuration, processes and on-going monitoring.
